COMPOSE is a three years project with the aim to increase the share of renewable local energy sources in energy mix strategies and plans in 11 Mediterranean regions.

Project builds on existing experience and know-how from previous projects and initiatives to provide a synthesis model for RES development planning and therefore their increase in energy mix of selected areas. As a horizontal principle project composes the knowledge, sectorial policies and financial instruments to promote and invite green investments, based on local potentials.

Altogether, COMPOSE offers more at least 15 implemented pilot activities aiming to promote, strengthen and rise the use of RES in hand to hand with EE measures.
